Stationary Spay-Neuter & Wellness Clinics:

In addition to the free services outlined below, our three stationary Spay-Neuter and Wellness Clinics made spay-neuter, vaccinations against preventable diseases, and basic wellness services more affordable for the general public. In FY2015, these clinics—in Houston, Pasadena, and San Antonio—performed 29,052 spay/neuter surgeries (8,336 dog spays, 7,006 dog neuters, 7,671 cat spays, and 6,039 cat neuters). They cared for an additional 19,303 dog and cat patients with wellness services. Because the offerings in our clinics were limited to spay/neuter and wellness services, our dedicated and compassionate team was able to remain focused on the proficiency of high-quality, high-volume spay/neuter and keep prices low at the same time. By enabling our clients to access affordable spay/neuter services, we were able to move closer to achieving our vision of a world with no homeless pets in FY2015.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4b - Program Service Accomplishments

Mobile Clinic Projects:

Our mobile spay-neuter clinics—pioneered by SNAP in 1993—are addressing the problem of animal overpopulation, homelessness, and euthanasia by taking services right into the neighborhoods in which they are most needed. High rates of animal homelessness, abandonment, shelter intake, and euthanasia directly correlate with areas in which a large percentage of the population lives below poverty level. In FY2015 our mobile clinics served low-income clients in twelve Texas counties. A total of 6,010 animals received spay-neuter and vaccinations (1,273 dog spays, 1,373 dog neuters, 1,439 cat spays, and 1,218 cat neuters). Calculating only the female animals and using conservative reproduction rates, the births of over 6,000 puppies and 11,000 kittens were prevented within a single year's time. Carrying the calculations out over a longer period of time, the numbers increase exponentially, reaching staggering and heart-breaking numbers.

These clients (who qualify based on participation in various government assistance programs) have been empowered through the opportunity to provide a previously unattainable level of care for their pets, while contributing to the solution of animal overpopulation. Charitable funding for these programs allowed us to provide the services at no cost to the clients.

In addition to the immediate financial benefit of receiving free services, these clients were able to avoid the compounded expenses of future generations of unwanted puppies and kittens. Pets have been given the chance to live their lives free from hormonal urges, preventable diseases, reproductive cancers, and the discomfort and dangers of giving birth. The removal of hormonal behaviors in these companion animals has helped to improve the human/animal bond, which has been repeatedly shown to provide tremendous emotional, mental, and physical health benefits for the human caregivers.

Our Houston Mobile Clinic continued to work in the infamous "Corridor of Cruelty and Neglect." This area of town has become a place where unwanted animals are discarded. Many of these animals have been abused, often used in cruel and illegal dog-fighting operations. With this large population of homeless animals, the cycle of reproduction continues unfettered. Thanks to funding from a number of animal organizations and foundations who have been touched by the deplorable plight of these animals, SNAP was able to make a number of trips to the corridor in FY2015.

millions of unwanted puppies and kittens, these services have had dramatic implications for the public. Public health has been improved by reducing the threat and incidence of rabies spread by dogs and decreasing the number of dog bites (which are overwhelmingly caused by un-neutered male dogs). A reduction in the number of stray animals roaming the neighborhoods and the number of carcasses in our landfills has achieved a safer and cleaner environment.

Municipalities and taxpayers have been saved money by the reduction in number of animals picked up off the streets, impounded, and euthanized in animal control facilities and shelters (nation-wide, these expenses are estimated to be as high as $2 billion per year). And community livability standards and public sentiment have been improved by reducing the killing of healthy, adoptable dogs and cats.

Contracts/Cooperative Efforts with Municipalities and Shelters:

These activities were carried out by and budgeted through the two programs described previously.

In FY2015, SNAP contracted and/or partnered with a number of municipalities and agencies, including BARC (the City of Houston), Harris County, Fort Bend County, the City of Pasadena, San Antonio Animal Care Services, the City of Laredo Health Department, the City of Liberty, and Bexar County. While the target populations, client qualifications, and other details vary from contract to contract, all of these collaborations allowed us to achieve the goals of providing spay-neuter to a greater number of clients, vaccinating animals against rabies and other preventable diseases for the well-being of the animals and in the interest of public health, and reducing the number of homeless animals and the number of healthy, adoptable cats and dogs euthanized in shelters.

One indicator of the success of these collaborations is the incredible progress the city of San Antonio has made in improving its shelter live release rate, moving closer to "no kill" status. A broad coalition of agencies and organizations were part of this remarkable achievement, and SNAP has been integral to the success of the effort.

In February, 2015, SNAP also continued to expand our international reach, as four SNAP team members joined an international team working with the city of Ambato, Ecuador and Protection Animal Ecuador (PAE) to address a terrible pet overpopulation crisis in the city. 1,463 dogs and cats were spayed and neutered during this five-day project. This project adds to trips to Mexico, American Somoa, the Cayman Islands, the Galapagos Islands, and India in previous years. Through this international outreach SNAP has helped address animal overpopulation by performing surgeries and teaching the local communities how to set up spay-neuter clinics and how to practice high-quality, high-volume spay-neuter.
